THE SAMOAN SITUATION.

What Secretary Bayard Says Regarding the Latest News.

WASHINGTON, January 22.—The dispatches from London and Berlin regarding the Samoan situation, published this morning, were shown to Secretary Bayard this afternoon, with a view of obtaining some expression of opinion from him on the subject. His attention was specially invited to the statements that Germany has come to a definite understanding with the United States with regard to Samoa, and in response he said:

"Of course, I expect Germany to live up to her honorable engagements with the United States, but you must know there are matters I do not care to discuss in the newspaper."

When asked in regard to the policy of the Government, he referred to the President's message to Congress, and said that, in his opinion, the United States should not be involved in a war with Germany. He said that the United States should not be involved in a war with Germany, and that the United States should not be involved in a war with Germany.

The fact that nothing has been recently received by cable from Auckland, and that the United States has no communication with Samoa, is not a serious matter, as the United States has no communication with Samoa, and that the United States has no communication with Samoa.

TRIUMPH FOR PROTECTION.

The Republican Tariff Bill Finally Passed by the Senate.

WASHINGTON, January 22.—The Senate passed the Finance Committee's tariff bill at 8 o'clock this evening by a strict party vote—32 to 30. Senator Riddleberger announced that he had not been paired here, and that he would vote against the bill. Since the discussion began quite a number of amendments to the measure have been introduced on motion of the Finance Committee. Some of these amendments increase the rates, and others reduce them, the principle of the bill has been maintained intact.

RATHER MILD.

The Guilford-Miller Decision and Its Effect Upon Rates.

WASHINGTON, January 22.—When Secretary Vilas rendered his decision in the celebrated Guilford-Miller case, before the election, he included in it the statement that the decision was not necessarily under discussion, and among them was one relating to lands within the Indian lands which the Indians had acquired by purchase from the Government. When they gave up the lands, they should go to the road. This being the case, the road could take no indemnity for the lands, but must wait until they could get them. The department had, previous to that time, held for years that the Indians had acquired the lands by purchase from the Government, and that the Indians had acquired the lands by purchase from the Government.

PLEADING FOR UTAH.

Arguments in Favor of Utah's Admission to Statehood.

WASHINGTON, January 22.—Judge Wilson, of this city, concluded his argument to-day in favor of the admission of Utah Territory as a State. He said that the House Committee on Territories. He argued that when a Territory had a population sufficient to entitle it to representation in Congress, under other conditions, it should be admitted as a State. He said that when a Territory had a population sufficient to entitle it to representation in Congress, under other conditions, it should be admitted as a State.

MAKING CITIZENS.

A Substitute for All the House Naturalization Bills.

WASHINGTON, January 22.—The Oates Sub-Committee on Naturalization to-day reported to the Judiciary Committee of the House a bill prepared in lieu of all others, amendatory of the naturalization laws. The provisions of the bill, briefly stated, are: A requirement that an alien must be five years in the United States before he can become a citizen; that at the expiration of that time he must appear in court and prove his residence, good moral character and fitness for citizenship. In the case of the United States Courts, none of his intention must be served upon a representative of the United States, and likewise in the case of a State representative of the State Government must be notified and attend the hearing. The present requirement of a declaration of intention to become a citizen is dispensed with. The bill will be discussed on Saturday.

FRUIT BRANDY.

Senator Stanford's Amendment to the Tariff Bill Agreed To.

WASHINGTON, January 22.—Senator Stanford yesterday introduced the amendment intended to be proposed to the tariff bill, providing for a tax of five cents per proof gallon or wine gallon, when below proof—on all brandy made exclusively from the California delinquent vine. He concluded that rather than risk getting no action on the amendment at all he would not offer it. He said that the amendment offered the bill which passed the Senate two years ago, which provides that all fruit brandy used for fortifying sweet wines must be free from internal revenue tax. The wine thus fortified is not to contain more than 24 per cent. of alcohol. The amendment contains a legislative provision for the enforcement of the tariff law.
